

WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY
COLLEGE OF HUMAN RESOURCES AND EDUCATION

- Position: Teaching Instructor or Teaching Assistant Professor of Special Education
Non-tenure track, nine month appointment with possible summer employment
1, 2, or 3 year term appointment depending on qualifications, renewable
- Focus: Special Education: Generalist
- Required Qualifications: Earned Master's degree (Instructor) or doctorate (Assistant Professor) in special education by August 2010 with emphasis in one or more areas of specialization; at least two recent years of successful public school experience teaching students with exceptionalities in area(s) of specialization, capacity and desire to collaborate with others in program development.
- Preferred Qualifications: Additional experience in the delivery of campus-based or online instruction in a teacher education program; focus in early childhood special education and/or severe disabilities.
- Responsibilities:
1. Teach undergraduate and/or graduate courses in special education, with major focus on teacher certification courses in general special education and in area(s) of specialization (high incidence).
 2. Mentor undergraduate and graduate students and supervise practica/internships.
 3. Design/refine coursework to prepare educators to work with students with exceptionalities.
 4. Deliver courses on campus or through synchronous and asynchronous Web-based instruction.
 5. Design/refine program to ensure educators will have knowledge, skills, and dispositions to provide appropriate and effective instruction for students with exceptionalities in inclusive programs.
 6. Participate in activities associated with program approval and accreditation processes.
 7. Collaborate with faculty and practitioners in other areas of education and various professional disciplines in teaching, research and service activities.
 8. Provide service to the College, the University, the State, the public schools, and the profession.
- Starting Date: August 16, 2010 (all positions are subject to availability of funding)
- Salary: Competitive and based on applicant qualifications and experience
- To Apply: Submit by electronic means a letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, and 3 letters of reference to: Wilma.Phillips@mail.wvu.edu
- For More Information: Dr. Barbara L. Ludlow, Professor & Chair
West Virginia University
Department of Special Education
Morgantown, WV 26506-6122
304-293-3835
Barbara.Ludlow@mail.wvu.edu

Review of applications will begin June 15, 2010; the search will continue until the position is filled.

West Virginia University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer that accommodates the needs of persons with disabilities. Women, individuals with a disability, and individuals of minority backgrounds are encouraged to apply. WVU offers a Dual Career Program to assist a spouse or partner of newly hired, benefits-eligible faculty members with job search needs. All positions are subject to availability of funding.

For further information, visit the College web site at <http://www.wvu.edu/~hre/>.